FCC - MAILROOM

DEAR MR. Adelstein

I urge you not to relax
the broadcast ownership rules that protect American citizens from media monopolies.

If proposed "broadcast ownership rules"
are adopted, independent voices in cities across the United States could be squeezed out by huge media corporations.

Whole communities and even states and regions could be dominated by one media company which could decide which viewpoints to allow on the air and which to censor.

The big media conglomerates have in the past used their power to keep opposing viewpoints off the air. These proposed rule changes would give them far greater power to keep opposing views off the air and out of newspapers.

Therefore, for the sake of our democracy and our freedom, I urge you to continue the broadcast ownership protections that, for decades, have helped to ensure a healthy political debate in our country. Sincerely, Michael Boyce

FCC - MAILROOM

Dear Mr. Powell;

Right now in this country all of the news papers are controlled by a couple of major corporations. Knight-Ridder selects and places editors and board members on the payroll at all of their owned companies. Why? To have positive establishment control and filter and censor what the public reads. This has been done since 1910. This is why all papers across the country all have the same ultra liberal slant. As an example, they effectively manipulated the Bill Clinton impeachment and deflected attention away from his treasonous acts with China.

Having all radio and television outlets controlled by the same establishment gangsters would further their globalist one world agenda. Do you really think it is in the best interest of the American people to have Ted Turner deciding what to censor. It concentrates too much power in the hands of the wrong people.

The only way to get the truth is to have as many independent outlets as possible. I have no interest in the news as censored from the "Harold Pratt House".

Sincerely,

John Eastman

Dear Sir:

I am concerned that the Commission may weaken the Broadcast Ownership Rules. At the present Time it is extremely difficult to find a media source that reports objectively on issues. The vast majority of media reporting, both written and spoken, clearly is slanted to promote the agenda of the media ownership and staff. It would be a great mistake to allow even more control to be placed in the hands of even fewer people and organizations.

Please do not allow this to happen. The media need more diversity, not less.

Thank you

Dear Commissioners:

I urge you not to relax the broadcast ownership rules that protect American citizens from media monopolies.

These proposed changes would pave the way for giant media conglomerates to gain near-total control of radio and television news and information in communities across our nation. Many of the corporations that are now lobbying the FCC to relax these ownership rules already have a known track record in attempting to keep opposing viewpoints off the air.

The American people deserve to hear more than one point of view on important issues. Therefore, for the sake of our democracy and our freedom, I urge you to continue the broadcast ownership protections that, for decades, have helped to ensure a healthy political debate in our country.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Powell,

I hope that the FCC does not change the rules for ownership of radio and television stations. Allowing a concentration of ownership of these important nation-wide information outlets will allow public opinion to be molded by a few powerful owners. An important benefit of the current ownership rules is the diversity of opinion that results. The nation will be ill-served by the relaxation in these rules that is under consideration.

I believe that the formation of information monopolies will be very detrimental.

Sincerely,

Richard Nelson
